

Brickmould

Brickmoulds are an important part of window replacement. A brickmould is a strip of vinyl that is used to close the small gap between the wall and the frame of the opening, providing a seal against both water and air infiltration.

Vinyl brickmoulds are lightweight, durable and easy to work with. They create a traditional look, do not need to be painted, and come in a variety of colours to easily match the colour scheme of your home.
